SOON COMES THE NIGHT

Administration 10 - 19

Students

Service 78 - 88

The work of God through the administration and student body . . .

... is being carried on in their spiritual,
academic, and social lives.

Mr. Romeyn E. Westervelt

On February 12, 1965, Romeyn E. Westervelt was taken home to be with the Lord he loved and served so faithfully. Mr. Westervelt had served the Lord for the past several years at C.B.C. in the Printing Department, mimeographing tests, question sheets, and prayer letters. Though his work brought him little public recognition or thanks, he was always faithful in carrying out his responsibilities "heartily as unto the Lord." He will be remembered for his readiness to perform those menial tasks which are so necessary in the daily operation of campus affairs.

Mr. Westervelt's life was a testimony to all who knew him. He was always kind, very patient, and never complained. His likeness to the image of Christ was no doubt due to the Lord's working in his life through the many tragedies which seem to have marked his life. His serious automobile accident in 1939 and the death of two of his children seemed to press him closer to the Lord and made his testimony all the brighter. "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints" (Psalms 116:15).

DEDICATION

Dr. Paul G. Culley

It is fitting that the 1965 Finial be dedicated to Dr. Paul G. Culley, Director of the Graduate School of Missions for nearly twenty years. Dr. Culley is well acquainted with the entire world missions scene, both as an educator and a former missionary. His vision and zeal for missions are clearly seen as he works toward preparing others to labor in the world's harvest fields.

From 1925, when he completed medical training at Johns Hopkins University, until he arrived at C.B.C., Dr. Culley's work has taken him far and wide. Shortly after completing training, he sailed for the Philippine Islands where he served 12 years as a medical missionary. During this time he met Miss Margaret Scheirick, who was serving there as a missionary nurse. In 1934 they were married.

His teaching experience has taken him from Manila Evangelistic Institute to Baltimore School of the Bible, Wheaton College, and finally Jungle Training Camp in Mexico.

Then in 1947 Dr. Culley arrived on campus to become Director of the newly formed Graduate School of Missions. Through the years, Dr. Culley's leadership has been used to prepare many students for missionary service. His obvious concern for the lost has been an example to all whom he has taught. His frequent prayer, "Send us forth . . .," shows his longing to see laborers commissioned for God's work. Dr. Culley, we thank God for your life and your dedication to our Lord Jesus. May the Lord use you to prepare many more for His service in the years to come.

Dusk draws near - - White harvests cry for laborers.

The ADMINISTRATION prepares students to serve God.

To Know Him and To Make Him Known

Any effective educational program must have some goal to which all its materials are integrated and toward which all its efforts are directed. God has given a perfect capstone for education in the person of the Lord Jesus. For "in Him are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge." The Lord has raised up the Bible colleges that this Stone which many educational builders have rejected might become the head of the corner. Thus the motto, "To Know Him and To Make Him Known," expresses the educational philosophy of Columbia Bible College.

This means that the Lord Jesus is the source and the teacher of all truth. The Lord Jesus, the Living Word, makes this truth known through the written Word. So at C.B.C. the basic consideration is the relation of the student to the Lord Jesus and the relation of the subject matter to the Word of God.

This also means that the Lord Jesus is the source of the life produced by the training. So at C.B.C. it is desired that the Lord Jesus bring every area of the student's life under His control so that he may say from experience "to me to live is Christ."

Finally, this means that the Lord Jesus is the source of the power for effective Christian service. So at C.B.C. the theory and practice in Christian service is designed to teach the student that God "always leadeth us in triumph in Christ and maketh manifest through us the savor of His knowledge in every place."

President's Letter

Dear Seniors:

The occasion of writing this letter with its personal expression of warm regard and congratulations is that of your academic position as "children of your Alma Mater," but the real joy in writing to you is derived from the fact that you are "children of light" (Eph. 5:8).

As children of light I would exhort you, as I exhort myself, to walk as children of light. We spend our days on earth in the midst of the darkness of human sin and its effects. It is the time of the world's night. Its only hope is to see the "Light of the world" in us.

We do not have much time. All too soon our night will come, the night that means earth's day has ended and its opportunities for eternity are gone. "The night cometh when no man can work" (John 9:4).

Ever yours, in Christ,

MR. LETCHFORD, Advisor

Senior Class

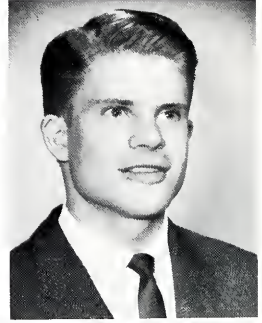

The Senior Year brings with it retrospection as well as anticipation of the future. Reflecting over our four years at C.B.C., we are grateful to the Lord for the way He has used past experiences, especially this last year, to prepare us to serve Him. Senior Sneak, the Retreat, and Junior-Senior banquet have been occasions of spiritual blessing as well as the social high-lights of the year. Through Senior chapel messages, doctrinal examinations, and many of our courses the Lord has given us a personal knowledge of Himself and His Word. As we now look to the future, much of it uncertain, we have confidence that our Lord will continue to lead and teach us in the future as He has in the past.

Junior Class

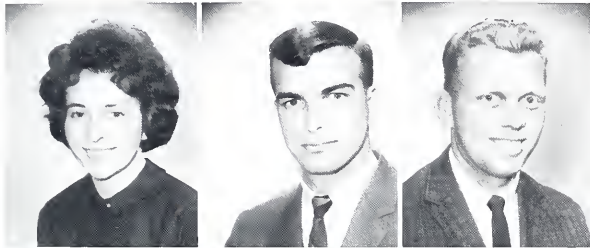

The night before the Senior Sneak

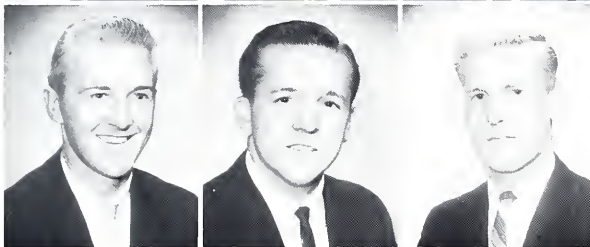

The Junior year is filled with many memorable experiences. Who could forget those science projects—the time we covered the campus with miniature solar systems? Or theology papers, always with a week of grace? And how many of us proved (or disproved) our artistic abilities on a Daniel Chart? Then there were activities such as the Junior-Senior Banquet, class socials and projects, and, of course, football games. Who wouldn't remember Thanksgiving Day when the Juniors won the Crips Bowl Classic? But best of all, we'll remember those many spiritual blessings we shared as a class, seeing God shower us with "every spiritual blessing in Christ Jesus."

Sophomore Class

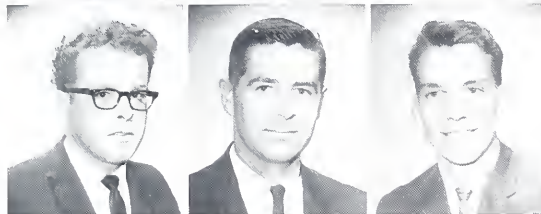

The Sophomore Class has without a doubt proven itself to be a unique group. Our wit and humor was demonstrated when we took first place on skit night for the second time. We have added life to the social periods with our incomparable "klumps." In the classroom we again showed ourselves outstanding as we met the new intellectual challenges which faced us. We had our first classroom encounter with Mr. Hatch . . . and that inevitable Prophets Chart! A few of us even plunged our way through first year Greek. And yet through all our varied activities, we have come to realize it is only the Lord Who daily sustains us. We look forward with confidence to what He has for us our next years at C.B.C.

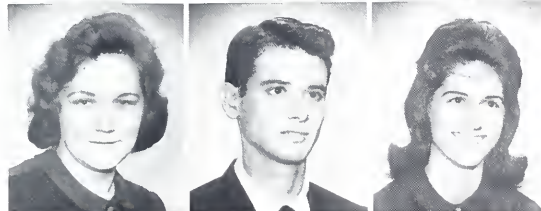

Could it be that simple?

Freshman Class

Class Prayer Meeting

"Newness" and "Freshmen" sometimes seem to be almost synonymous. Newness, though, soon wore away under adjustments as we recovered from our first history tests, regained our poise after music class solos, and daily regathered our bell-shattered nerves at 6:01 a.m.

Pleasant adjustments also came as we met our C.B.C. family at the all-school social and later at our Freshman-Sophomore social. Another wonderful adjustment was to the new sensitivity to spiritual values we found here at C.B.C. What a blessed experience chapel was as daily we listened to men of God open the Word to us! Then in our classes, spiritual truths were presented in ways that made it easy to apply them to our daily lives. We do thank the Lord for our first year at C.B.C. and for all the lessons He has taught us here.

Don't you really believe I'm studying?

Graduates

We often marvel when we see the varied backgrounds from which our class has come together. For instance, we are made up of nurses, doctors, teachers, musicians, missionaries on furlough, and ministers. Though our backgrounds are many, we have a unity of purpose: to equip ourselves through Bible and missions studies for effective ministry in His service.

Our class project, giving to the Bethel Camp for Negro young people, gives us a present opportunity to serve the Lord in a practical way. Also our weekly Christian Service opportunities have provided for us ways for becoming involved now in the work of God.

How precious have been the lessons and truths that our Lord has taught us in these few short years in the Graduate School of Missions.

Student Association

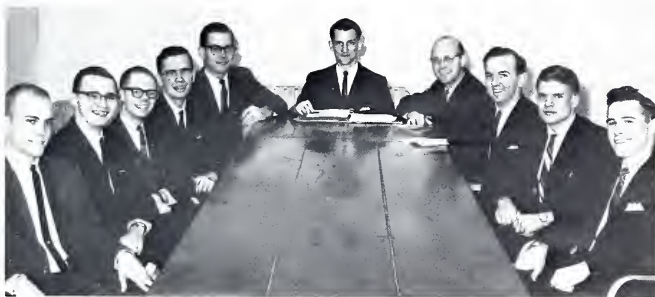

Though often unappreciated because it is unseen in its behind-the-scene activities, the Student Association is vital to a smooth functioning campus life. Organizations represented in the Association range from dorm councils to the Foreign Missions Fellowship and Finial. The Student Council, comprised of the Association officers and representatives from each class and student organization, acts as the Association's administrative body. The Student Association has a three-fold purpose: the promotion of the social, cultural, and spiritual life of the student body, the direction of various student activities, and the co-operation of the student body with the Faculty and Board in all matters concerning the college's welfare and its service to the Lord.

Athletics

The well-rounded Christian's life should always include some form of recreation. On campus, participation in athletic activities provides an opportunity for each student to demonstrate in a down-to-earth way his Christian experience, while keeping himself "in shape." Thus, some sort of physical exercise is required of all students. Underclassmen take part in physical education classes and daily exercises, while upperclassmen and graduates engage in sports of their own choosing. Intramural sports include soccer and touch football in the fall, basketball in the winter, and volley ball and softball in the spring. The college also competes in city league basketball as well as inter-collegiate soccer.

Social Life

As Ambassadors of the King, it is important that we be mature in our relationships with others and be able to exercise the social graces which are part of our society. Our campus provides ample opportunity for development in this area by daily contact with fellow students. Dormitory life is an excellent opportunity to learn to live with others, and in doing so, to curb our own desires in consideration of those around us. Everything—from group socials and Open House all the way down to ping pong, and even taffy pulls—proves to be instances in which we can grow socially in our preparation as Ambassadors.

Married Life

As married students, we face some problems which are unknown to dormitory students. Probably the greatest of these is that of meeting all the demands of classes, Christian service, and work, without neglecting the responsibilities toward our families. Transportation often presents another problem, as do finances, arranging tight schedules, and getting to special meetings. Each of these problems, however, has brought a new opportunity to trust the Lord for His solution. The bond among us in sharing these common problems has been encouraging. We praise the Lord for what He is teaching us through each trial we face.

Studies

The goal of the academic work at C.B.C. is the equipping of each student for Christian service. To meet this goal, two majors are offered: Bible and Missions. The center and basis of the curriculum being the Word of God, the first two years of study involve a general survey of the Bible along with basic liberal arts subjects. Detailed book studies and theology are taken up the last two years. In brief, the purpose for the existence of Columbia Bible College may be summed up in the school motto: "To Know Him," through our studies, "and To Make Him Known," through our Christian service.

Finial

In its many pictures and words, the Finial provides students with a review of the highlights of their academic year and gives those outside the Bible College a glimpse into the life and purposes of the school. To this end the 1965 Finial has been produced with much prayer that God will bless it to His glory.

Christian Service

As a part of their training at C.B.C., students are given a Christian service assignment consisting of some type of ministry either to Christians in the churches or to those who would not ordinarily come under the sound of the Gospel. Not only is Christian service a means of putting into practice what is learned in the classroom, but it is an immediate opportunity "to make Him known." The various ministries include music, both by individuals and by the choirs; preaching in churches, jails, prison camps, and the open air; teaching in Sunday schools, Bible clubs, public schools; and many other opportunities.

Foreign Missions Fellowship

F.M.F. is a fellowship of students united by a common commitment of obedience to Jesus Christ the Lord. Its purpose is basically twofold. For the F.M.F. member it provides an outlet for expression of his own commitment to the Lord, as well as a means in leading him on into a fuller understanding of God's will for his life. For the non-F.M.F. member it should serve to constantly face him with the issue of service to the Lord in missions.

Its activities include a weekly Saturday evening meeting, at which missionaries speak, panel discussions are held, and other related programs are presented. The last part of this meeting is given over to eight separate prayer groups covering different geographical areas of the world. Further activities include a financial project, occasional team ministry, and a weekly prayer time for the whole student body.

Alumni

Conscious that "the night cometh when no man can work," C.B.C. graduates, as Children of the Day, are busy buying up the opportunities. In a recent survey made of a five-year span of graduates, it was found that seventy-eight percent of C.B.C.'s alumni are in full-time service or preparing for it. Of this number nearly one-half enter foreign missionary work. In the homeland, the pastorate claims twenty-five percent.
